ABSTRACT

We offer these reviewers our heartfelt thanks for a task that usually goes unrewarded in the academic environment. This year, we are especially grateful for those people listed below. They have assisted us in reaching the start of our 4th year, by guiding our decisions with your knowledge and capabilities.

Keywords: Appalachia, reviewers, peer review, acknowledgment

As with all peer-reviewed medical journals, the Journal of Appalachian Health could not be the credible online journal it is without the help of the competent content experts we choose to review each of our research, review, and special articles.

And each year, we offer them our heartfelt thanks for a task that usually goes unrewarded in the academic environment. This year, we are especially grateful for those people listed below. They have assisted us in reaching the start of our 4th year, by guiding our decisions with your knowledge and capabilities.
