

Retraction: Seronegative Autoimmune Encephalitis: A Challenge for the Neurologist

In a Letters to the Editor titled “Seronegative Autoimmune Encephalitis: A Challenge for the Neurologist” published in Annals of Indian Academy of Neurology, on pages 280-283, Issue 2, Volume 25, 200^[1], is being retracted because high rate of data fabrication has been observed with an article of the same title published in Acta Scientific Clinical Case Reports, Volume 2, Issue 8, 2021.^[2]

It was brought to the attention of the journal’s editorial board, that there is substantial overlap of content in article published later in AIAN. Thus, the journal’s editorial office has decided to retract the article.

Plagiarism, fabrication, unethical or redundant publication violates the editorial policy Annals of Indian Academy of Neurology, which follows best practice guidelines given by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE) and Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE) mentioned on the Information for Authors and as codified in the signed statements made by the authors regarding the copyright of their work.

This article has been retracted on request of the Authors and Editor-in-Chief of the journal.
