The official journal of EGA, Euroasian Journal of Hepato-Gastroenterology (EJOHG) is growing rapidly with great efforts by editor-in-chief Hasan Özkan, co-editor-in-chief Sheikh Mohammad Fazle Akbar, executive editor Mamun-Al-Mahtab, although it was launched only 5 years ago. Euroasian Journal of Hepato-Gastroenterology has began its publishing life in 2011 and it is being published and distributed regularly two times a year. With the big support from our colleagues from Asia and Europe, our journal is continuing its publishing life. In June 2015, we have applied to join the PubMed index which you will be informed about the results. Scientific level of EJOHG has been improving progressively year-by-year with increased number of submitted original articles and review articles.

I have faith that in the coming years our association will grow stronger and will take role in more active affairs. Your support is very important for us. Together, I believe that we can establish a powerful platform and scientific zone in the Eurasia and our dream will come true. Finally, I would like to thank to executive committee, editorial board members and all of my colleagues once again for their valuable support.

Hasan Özkan
