

Online Resource 2. Representing clinical manifestations and magnetic resonance imaging findings of systemic sclerosis-related osteomyelitis.

A representative skin ulcer accompanied by osteomyelitis in the 4th finger (A) which showed high signal intensity in the middle phalanx on the fat-suppressed T2 sequence of magnetic resonance imaging (B, white arrow). A representative skin ulcer accompanied by osteomyelitis in the toe (C).