The authors apologize for any potential confusion caused by the use of the phrases “hydrochloric corrosive, nitric corrosive, ozone harming substance, sulfuric corrosive” in the original article.

The phrases were employed to characterize a condition of the corrosive nature of the substances.

To improve the article, the authors correct the phrases “hydrochloric corrosive, sulfuric corrosive, nitric corrosive,” in line 5, section 2.4 to the well-recognized term “hydrochloric acid, sulfuric acid, nitric acid.” To improve the article, the authors correct the phrase “ozone harming substances” in line 5, section 3.5 to the well-recognized term “ozone-depleting substance”.

The authors would like to make apologies for any inconvenience caused.

In addition, the table missing from Section 6 is shown as table 2 in Section 5.6. As such the heading “6. Comparison” table has been removed and subsequent headings have been renumbered accordingly.

The journal would like to make apologies for any inconvenience caused.
