

Editor's note

On behalf of the JGH Open and its editors, I wish all readers, a Happy New Year and Decade!

In this first issue of 2020, we have 18 articles. There has been a steady momentum of papers submitted to the JGH Open, which has been heartening. However, the overwhelming majority of papers have been cascaded from our sister journal, the Journal of Gastroenterology and Hepatology. These papers have their "article processing charges" supported generously by the Journal of Gastroenterology and Hepatology Foundation, until the present time. I look forward, however, to receive many more direct submissions from authors in the near future.

In 2020, we hope to receive further citation indices, Our "holy grail" is the Web of Science ISI citation, which our Publishers, Wiley and the editors are working hard to try to achieve within this year.
