

Presidential Address

Taiwan Neurosurgical Spine Society: Move Together in “Neurospine” Toward Clinical and Academic Success

E-Jian Lee

President

Taiwan Neurosurgical Spine Society

It is my honor to represent the Taiwan Neurosurgical Spine Society to congratulate Neurospine to start publication.

First, I would like to thank Professor Yoon Ha, Editor in Chief of Neurospine and Professor Phyo Kim, president of Neurospine Society of Japan, as well as the team of the entire periodical secretariat for their efforts and contributions so that this journal can be smoothly promoted and published.

From 2010 to the present, South Korea, Japan, and Taiwan jointly contributed to the hosting of the international conference of ASIA SPINE. And now we are working together to publish this journal, we deeply admire the efforts of the three countries.

This collaboration is the first of its kind in the field of neurosurgical spine in Asia. We strongly hope that this journal of Neurospine will help to establish scholarly links across the neurosurgical spine in South Korea, Taiwan, Japan, and other Asian countries.

This journal is rich in content and has great value in the field of neurosurgical spine. We are looking forward that more and more advanced academic papers will be published in the future. Let us learn the precious experience of our predecessors and promote new knowledge in the field that, definitely encourage young physicians to work hard to contribute in the field of Neurosurgical Spine.

Sincere greeting,

March 2018
