To the editor:

It was my pleasure that I have published paper in your prestigious journal Annals of Coloproctology with title “Outcome of Colorectal Surgery in Elderly Populations.”

Unfortunately, I noticed that by mistake I forget to add both of my affiliation “Department of General Surgery, Mansoura University” beside “Department of General Surgery, Tor Vergata University.”

I understand that this is the authors' responsibility to check their affiliation, but I will appreciate if you make a corrigendum for this.

Thank you in advance

Mostafa Shalaby

The first author's affiliation should be corrected as follows.
