

Conservative tibiototalcalcaneal fusion for partial talar avascular necrosis in conjunction with ankle and subtalar joint osteoarthritis in Kashin–Beck disease: A case report: Erratum

In the article, “Conservative tibiototalcalcaneal fusion for partial talar avascular necrosis in conjunction with ankle and subtalar joint osteoarthritis in Kashin–Beck disease: A case report”,^[1] which appears in Volume 98, Issue 29 of Medicine, the following funding information should be noted:

This study was funded by Science and Technology Projects of Suzhou Sanitary Bureau (SYS2018052) and Suzhou Municipal Sports Bureau Sports Research Bureau (TY2016-203).

Reference

- [1] Li L, Wang Y, Zhu Z. Conservative tibiototalcalcaneal fusion for partial talar avascular necrosis in conjunction with ankle and subtalar joint osteoarthritis in Kashin–Beck disease: A case report. Medicine. 98;29:e16367.