

OPEN

Beyond Volume: Hospital-Based Healthcare Technology for Better Outcomes in Cerebrovascular Surgical Patients Diagnosed With Ischemic Stroke: A Population-Based Nationwide Cohort Study From 2002 to 2013: Erratum

In the article “Beyond Volume: Hospital-Based Healthcare Technology for Better Outcomes in Cerebrovascular Surgical Patients Diagnosed With Ischemic Stroke: A Population-Based Nationwide Cohort Study From 2002 to 2013”,¹ which appeared in Volume 95, Issue 11 of Medicine, Dr. Tae-Hyun Kim’s name was originally misprinted as Tae-Hyun Lee. The article has since been corrected online.

REFERENCE

1. Kim J-H, Park E-C, Lee SG, et al. Beyond volume: Hospital-based healthcare technology for better outcomes in cerebrovascular surgical patients diagnosed with ischemic stroke: A population-based nationwide cohort study from 2002 to 2013. Medicine. 95;11:e3035.

Copyright © 2016 Wolters Kluwer Health, Inc. All rights reserved.

This is an open access article distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution License 4.0, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited.

ISSN: 0025-7974

DOI: 10.1097/01.md.0000484042.43613.b3