

Hon. Secretary's Message

I would like to thank everyone for electing me as the Hon. Secretary of Indian Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Pathologists. The constant efforts of all the editors in maintaining the highest standards in quality and content of the articles have ensured that JOMFP is a PubMed-indexed journal.

In my tenure as the Hon. Secretary, I would also like to see the journal reach a high-impact factor. I wish the current editor and team the very best. I urge each member to actively participate in creating high-quality articles for publication to fulfill the society's goals of education and research.
